

Welcome to the DAFFY CAFE...

by Adam Bull - July 1984 Big K

You take part of a waiter in a busy café. At intervals each of the tables will order a meal and you must deliver it before they become angry and get you fired. Each table will wait for a count of nine (shown on the table) for its meal before getting angry.

The ordered meal is displayed under the table. The meal you are carrying will be displayed in the centre of the screen.

To pick up a meal you move up against the kitchen (to change a meal simply move up against another counter), and to deliver a meal you move against the required table.

You cannot deliver the wrong meal to a table, so lookout in case they change their minds.

Extra points will be awarded if you wash your hands in the gents cloak room to the left of the café.

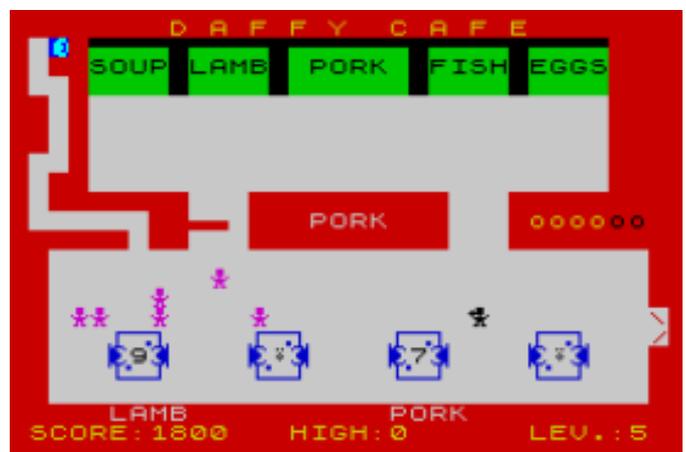

Use the cursor keys, or "W, S O and P" to steer your waiter.

Mind out for the drunks and manic tea trolleys, which will kill you.
